UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Program Definition

Subject matter schooling in a minority language for extended periods of time

WITH

Intentional development of language and literacy skills in two languages while teaching subject knowledge through both

• Tara Fortune and Donna Christian - October 19, 2012 – St. Paul, MN •

Educational Philosophy

The philosophical stance that underlies dual language immersion education holds that

- language is a valuable human resource and children can acquire new languages while still developing their first;
- language acquisition is best accomplished through subject learning and with high language intensity;
- culture is a given way of doing and being in the world and children's sense of ethnic identity and self-esteem improve with culturally aware education;
- subject-matter schooling through a second, foreign, heritage or indigenous language can be cognitively, academically, linguistically enriching for all children.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

"The Dual Language Umbrella" (Howard et al., 2007)

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Program Goals

- High levels of academic achievement across all subject areas
- Interpersonal and academic language proficiency in English and the minority language (additive bilingualism/biliteracy)
- Enhanced intercultural understanding for more effective participation in the global community

CA 2011-12 Data

- Former CDE Consultant Michele Espinosa-Anberg joined ATDLE (formerly Two-Way CABE) in an effort to update the California Directory of Two-Way & Dual Language Programs for the California Department of Education in 2011.
- The reporting programs had to answer a few questions in order to be included: describe the type of program in terms of language breakdowns, the demographics of the students they served, years in operation, target language, grade levels in operation, funding sources, Free & Red count, special recognitions or awards.

Two-Way Bilingual Immersion Programs

- Combine two different language groups in a linguistically balanced classroom setting so that students can cross-learn the language from each other. Almost 95% of the programs in California are Two-Way Bilingual Immersion Programs
- One-Way or Immersion programs exist through World Language programs in districts or as private schools.
- 4 of the 5 original TWBI programs are still fully operational and have graduated many cohorts of students from high school/college.

California School Programs

- Many districts focus on TWBI as an educational option to serve English Learners!
- Some low-performing districts are using this model for Turn Around and Program Improvement purposes to stem off the loss of high-achieving students and provide a well-organized program design for English and Native-speaking students.
